The plug-in is free of charge, and with it you can create sounds that you can only dream of... and the best part? It's yours to keep as a free download for life! The Syntronik Memory-V is a true labor of love for Jukio Mimamo, IK's resident synthesizer guru, and he's been at it for decades. Using the '80s synth, Mimamo made some of the most influential tracks of all time, such as

Tears For Fears' "Shout," Tom Waits' "Steamroller Blues," The Human League's "Don't You Want Me," and Madonna's "Vogue." The Memory-V was built with Mimamo's own hands, and it even has its own lovely solo to share with you. Winner of both the Best Sound Recording award at the 2018 Independent Music Awards and a Newcomer Award at the 2018 Independent Music Festivals Awards, Alka Vuodzixsen's debut album Lapping is a gorgeous, melodic, musical piece of work. The campaign was one of the most difficult for me to shoot for – mainly because it was quite chaotic. However, I managed to capture the essence of the project with only a couple of exposures. The Raffles Dubai project is quite an impressive luxury hotel located in the heart of Dubai, right opposite the iconic Burj Khalifa. It was also one of the first projects in Dubai to be designed by Indian architect,

Shapoorji Pallonji. The museum exhibition has been one of the most popular attractions for the public. The exhibition showcases various facets of the history of the hotel, where the once king-sized beds are now converted into living spaces for guests. This project also marks the return of 82157476af
